Hand Washing Stations

- All Steel Construction
- Great for Outdoor Use
- Meets all OSHA sanitation requirements

GK Machine's new all-steel constructed washing stations provide high quality hand-washing in areas where traditional sinks are unable to be present. For this reason, portable hand-washing stations are often referred to as self-contained sinks. Without a need for plumbing or water installation, portable hand-wash sinks are readily available in locations where hand-washing is required. GK's Hand Washing Stations have convenient forklift pockets for easily moving from location to location.
